

Yoga Calm Supports Social/Emotional Learning

CASEL

The Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning is an organization advancing the practice of promoting integrated academic, social, and emotional learning for all children in preschool through high school.

Social and emotional learning (SEL) enhances students' capacity to integrate skills, attitudes, and behaviors to deal effectively and ethically with daily tasks and challenges. Like many similar frameworks, CASEL's integrated framework promotes intrapersonal, interpersonal, and cognitive development through their five core SEL competencies (see diagram).

Yoga Calm Supports CASEL Core Competencies

Like CASEL, Yoga Calm features an integrated approach that promotes intrapersonal, interpersonal, and cognitive competence, yet adds a fourth, complementary, physical health component. Yoga Calm's experiential learning activities engage students physically in learning, not only supporting SEL competencies, but also developing lifelong health and wellness habits.

Supported by decades of research into physical fitness and sports education, the over 40 physical poses and movement sequences of Yoga Calm develop a physical sense of self, tangible self-confidence and self-efficacy that supports all other domains, as well as trauma recovery.

Integral to the Yoga Calm approach is student leadership of activities, community/teamwork building processes and class compliments/feedback on each other's measurable improvements. The combination of mindful movement activities with positive, supportive feedback in a safe community context helps students to recognize their strengths and builds self-esteem and intrinsic motivation.

Though all activities in Yoga Calm's Integrated Approach to Wellness curriculum are conducted in a SEL context, there are over 25 specific activities that uniquely support CASEL competencies, as outlined below (please refer to Yoga Calm for Children for detailed information on each activity).

Self-Awareness

The ability to accurately recognize one's own emotions, thoughts, and values and how they influence behavior. The ability to accurately assess one's strengths and limitations, with a well-grounded sense of confidence, optimism, and a "growth mindset."
